

present

Balancing Risk and Safety In Long Term Care

Rosalie Kane swims in the Rideau River with her 99 year-old father in photo taken in 2004.

We Listen, We Learn, We Evolve

A Patient Safety Forum to Share Your Thoughts and Ideas on Balancing Risk and Safety in Long Term Care

Balancing safety and freedom for older people needing help is a significant challenge in all care settings. Policies and rules aimed to promote safety may collide with lifestyle preferences of older people in minute and intrusive ways.

Sometimes the elderly care recipient is at the center of a complicated struggle, drawing in family members, professionals, and provider organizations. And often the struggles about what to do are internal, as elderly care recipients themselves and other concerned stakeholders try to reconcile desirable but conflicting goals.

Tell us what you think!

Thursday, November 12, 6:30 pm - 8:00 pm

2nd Floor, Deer Lodge Centre
2109 Portage Avenue, Winnipeg

For more information visit
www.mbips.ca

Introductory Remarks by:

The Honourable Kerri Irvin-Ross

Minister of Healthy Living
Minister responsible for Seniors

Featuring:

Rosalie A. Kane, PhD

Professor of Public Health, University of Minnesota
Faculty member of the Center for Biomedical Ethics,
School of Social Work, and the Center on Aging.

Risk vs. Freedom: Maximizing Safety Without Compromising Quality of Life

Réal Cloutier,

VP Long Term Care, WRHA; COO, Deer Lodge Centre

An Overview of the History of Long Term Care in Manitoba

Audience discussion will follow.

Share your thoughts for positive change.

This forum is free to all who wish to attend. No registration required.